Stay bite-free all summer with these kid-friendly bug sprays

By Ben Berk

It's summer, which means a lot of fun outdoors. But this also means dealing with the buzzing menace of mosquitoes. In addition to the regular annoyance these insects provide, the outbreak of the Zika virus in the Americas makes it more dangerous to be bitten. This is especially true of pregnant women—the CDC recommends using either DEET or Picaridin bug repellent sprays in addition to covering exposed skin if you are going to an area known to have mosquitoes. Make sure you check out all of their tips so you can enjoy all the outdoor fun you can handle!

To make sure your kiddos stay bite-free all summer long, we have assembled our top bug spray picks that are perfect for both kids and adults on the go this summer.

Fairy Tales Bug Bandit

This bug spray's main ingredient is lemon eucalyptus oil, which is as powerful as some DEET sprays against bugs but with none of the chemicals. It is proven to repel insects for over three hours and is effective for kids over the age of 3. While it is gluten, dairy and nut-free, it does contain soy. $13.95, fairytaleshaircare.com
